Mangrove Tunnel Kayak Tour

12:15 – 3:30 p.m.

Marco Island and Naples is home to a myriad of wildlife. Around 150 species of birds and many threatened and endangered animals, thrive in the estuarine environment and surrounding upland hammocks and scrub found within the Rookery Bay Reserve. Let the naturalist kayak tour guides entertain you and educate you as we take you through Marco Island's mangrove tunnels! While kayaking, you'll look for bottlenose dolphins, jumping mullet fish, mangrove tree crabs, soaring birds of prey, giant conch shells and more. The kayak tour lasts 2.5 hours and around 3 miles of a paddle round-trip. During the kayak tour, the guides will be teaching guests about the mangroves, the history of Marco Island and every bit of wildlife we see. If the tour is during low tide, you'll be stopping on a sand bar to look for critters. If the tour is during high tide, you'll spend more time in the mangrove tunnels. All kayak tour guides will also be taking high resolution photographs of your party and you will receive those photos the same day! Each participant gets their own 1-seater kayak with a high-back seat, cup holder and adjustable foot rests. Lunch included. $245 per person

Backwater Fishing

12:30 – 5:30 p.m.

Backwater fishing in the calm coastal back bay waters provides light tackle enthusiasts with the challenge of catching Florida's prized game fish like the hard fighting snook, feisty redfish or tasty trout and pompano just to name a few. While enjoying the action, anglers can experience the serenity of the backcountry with its abundance of birds and wildlife. The bounty of the backwaters of Southwest Florida promises a great day for the seasoned fisherman and novice alike. Professional licensed guides, knowledgeable of the prime fishing areas, operate all charter boats. Lunch included. $395 per person
